

GLOBALLY AKNOWLEDGED HYPER ISLAND START NEW RICH MEDIA EDUCATION

The Swedish educational state authority (Skolverket) has decided to say "go" to a new education revolution from globally acknowledged digital/interactive educator Hyper Island.

The program "Rich Media & Motion Graphics" is a 50-week education that aims to deliver great talent in the field to advertising, web, design and other appropriate industry players.

--There is an ever-growing need for rich media and motion graphic-talent that we now can help to deliver, says Hyper Island CEO Mattias Hansson.

Hyper Island welcomes students of all nationalities.

Since 14 years Hyper Island of Sweden (Stockholm and Karlskrona) has become a global household name for great talent in digital and interactive. In addition to longer programs, Hyper Island also helps all different industries and its employees to "go digital", using the unique Hyper Island learning method.
